Bachelor Of Education Uncertainty

The recent proposal by Teacher's service commission has thrown stake holders into limbo after it proposed the phasing out of Bachelor of Education requirement for teachers. This has been brought about by the need of rolling out the CBC curriculum seamlessly into the system.

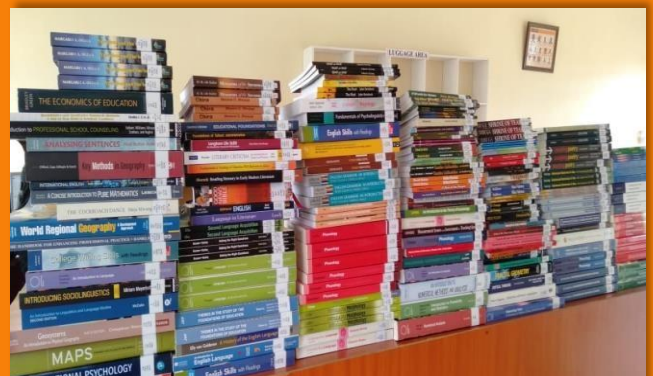

TSC proposes that students should take their regular Arts or Sciences degree followed by a post graduate one-year Diploma in Education To qualify them for registration as teachers. A proposal to develop a curriculum for the trainers of teachers by Kenya Institute of Curriculum Development and TSC in collaboration with universities and Commission for Universities Education has popped up which will aid in employment of Teachers Trainers.

TSC Chair Nancy Kamau however backed down on its plan stating that TSC has no power to scrap any program.

Rather their mandate is viewing and advising on the standards of education and training of persons entering the teaching service in Kenya.

"I wish to assure all stakeholders that the TSC has no powers to scrap any university degree. The role of determining degrees to be offered in universities is the sole prerogative of university senates, which are in charge of academic programmes under the regulation of the Commission for University Education. The TSC's mandate is limited to reviewing and advising on the standards of education and training of persons entering the teaching service in Kenya," Ms. Macharia said.

Meanwhile, Management University of Africa has since procured 193 books for Bachelor of Education (ARTS) stocked in Kisaju Main Campus Library. These efforts are meant to equip our students and Trainers with resources to help them in their studies.

Induction of Academic Leaders

Student academic leaders underwent an intense training and induction program at Elsamere Centre for education and sustainability, Naivasha from 3rd to 6th of June 2021.

Speakers including, Prof. Washington Okeyo, Daniel Komu, Mosses Leseiyo and Wilson Swakei spoke on topics such as Principles of Governance and Student Leadership, Self-Management and responsibility, Conflict management and resolution among other topics that would come in handy in the course of their governance.

Student Leadership is a vital piece in university administration since the body acts as a bridge between the administration and students at large thus ensuring smooth flow of operations in campus.
